About Him

Garrett Clark was born January 7, 1992 in Grand Haven, Michigan. When he was 10 he took piano lessons and took a prestigious summer program at Interlochen Center of the Arts when he was 14 years old. He went to college near Grand Rapids, Michigan and played with a local band. When he was 10 he was a professional magician called 'Garrett the Great', he was performing at parties and getting paid for it. At 13, a seventh grade student at White Pines Middle School, Garrett get a Gold Key Award for National Scholastic Art Awards with a $8,000 college scholarship for Kendall College of Art and Design in Grand Rapids for his visual arts and drawings.

Music

The instruments that he plays are guitar, piano, keyboard, ukulele, and of course vocals. In my opinion his most famous song is “Electric Love” which is the song for my cover. The band/musicians/composers that influenced him is a poet named Walter Benton and he used the landscape as a metaphor for the female body. Bee Gees also influenced him melodically and lyrically. The style of his music is Indie pop, psychedelic pop, alternative pop, synth-pop, electropop. And he really likes to write romantic songs, and the genre is pop/rock.

Facts

Surprisingly he lives in a tree house, there is no plumbing and he has a outdoor kitchen. He wrote a lot of songs in the tree house and they all have some southern in them. His stage name is Borns (styled as BØRNS) and he has been active for 8 years. In 2015 he got a award for 'Favorite Pop Albums'. He wore a Gucci-inspired outfit on 'The Tonight Show starring Jimmy Fallon. Gucci saw and took notice of the singer and started a partnership. He was also in some films like 'Lake Michigan', 'What a Relief', and more.
